

1. The Special Education department is finishing the training from the Record Reviews completed in December. The last meeting was with the Head Start Special Education department. The group met Friday, February 14. The purpose of the meetings were to share with teachers common errors and how to avoid these errors.
2. District staff made a visit to Meade County to gather information about their Co-teaching system. Donna Monroe, Jeannie Rohrer, Tiffany Weaver, Greg Lawson, Barbara Hensley and Kathy Bieger attended the visit Monday, February 10. The information was shared with principals February 11. District and school leadership will be exploring if this is an appropriate initiative for Carroll County.
3. The new special education teachers will be meeting together Tuesday, February 25. The group meets monthly. Discussions revolve around how to improve academic outcomes, appropriate behavior supports and compliance of paperwork. The group provides great supports for each other.
4. We have a new special education teacher at CCMS, Mamie Heveline. You may remember her as a teacher from Cartmell. We are very glad to have her as part of our team.
